

20260506_On the Illegal Threats of Using Law Enforcement Against Me

I want to be very clear in this public record: Donald Trump is illegally spying on my home, illegally threatening me, personally, attempting to extort me, and - this is the real interesting part of it all - Donald is threatening to use legitimate law enforcement against me.

So understand this: a convicted felon is illegally using his position of power, and his position of leading the executive branch of government to target the victims of his crimes - then, using his illegal methods to threaten the illegal use of the legitimate law enforcement tools that are at his disposal.

We have officially flipped upside down.

I knew this day was approaching. Many of us supported Donald Trump because he vowed to end this illegal practice but, instead, he has proven himself to be the worst of the offenders that I have ever, personally encountered (or witnessed in my lifetime - and I pay close attention, document everything, and am legally trained and qualified to make these determinations.)

So, in summary, let me reiterate: A convicted felon is using his position in government to target the victims of his crimes and is threatening to use the police to target those victims for crimes that he is conjuring up and manufacturing through the use of his illegal spying, oppressive surrounding of their home, and an assortment of other methods that I have described in greater detail in other posts.

If you have any doubts about whether the 'fake news' is unfairly treating Donald Trump right now, let me assure you that the 'fake news' is covering up a myriad of illegal activities on his behalf - likely due to the ongoing threats that Donald Trump is making to take illegal actions against everyone that he perceives to be a 'threat' to his unlawful ambitions.

We are in very dangerous and serious times, now, America.

We are upside down. Criminals are, in fact, controlling the nation's law enforcement, and they are using their positions to target innocent people around the world.

Please understand that this message is derived from my own personal experience and has been shared with you at great cost to myself and my family.

Thank you.